

CALL FOR PAPERS

CLSRN Annual Conference, 28-29 May 2015, Toronto

The Canadian Labour Market and Skills Research Network (CLSRN) will hold its ninth annual conference in Toronto from midday on May 28 to midday on May 29, 2015. The keynote speaker is Martha Bailey of the University of Michigan.

Individuals wishing to present a paper should submit it, or an abstract, by January 19, 2015. Submissions should be sent to: clsrn@mail.ubc.ca. Please note CLSRN 2015 Conference Submission in the subject line. The announcement of accepted papers will be made around Monday, February 2, 2015.

Travel funds are limited this year, but presenters who do not have access to alternative funding should enquire; we will try to cover reasonable travel and accommodation expenses of individuals presenting papers at the conference.

The CLSRN is a network of academic and government researchers interested in strengthening our understanding of the Canadian labour market. The academic director of CLSRN is Craig Riddell.

The Program Committee for this year's conference is:

Ana Ferrer, University of Waterloo (Chair of Program Committee); Audra Bowlus, University of Western Ontario; David Green, University of British Columbia; Stephanie Lluís, University of Waterloo; Miana Plesca, University of Guelph; Casey Warman, Dalhousie University